Z Knoxville, Tenn., January 31, 1868.

—Mr. D. O. Miller, Secretary, Greenfeld, O.—Dera Sir: Your letter of the 26th instant to the Secretary of the Knoxville Chamber of Commerce, was handed me for reply, and in assert to your very courteous and respectful raquiry, as to the status of the proposed Black Diamond Boad in Knoxville and Knox Connty, I would asy, I am glad to have the opportunity of giving the information you request. In 1981, after a most searching and exhaustive inquiry into the character and standing of Col. Albert E. Boone and the fitness for the work, the Knoxville Chamber of Commerce, over which body I then had the honor to preside, extending an invitation to Col. Roone to come to Knoxville and look over the field with the view of constructing a railroad from the great coal field in Kentneky and Northern Tennesse to Tide-Water. At that esse to Tide-Water. At tha time other important engagements rendered it impossible for Col. Boone to accept our invitation.

In 1894 the Chamber of Comm In 1884 the Chamber of Commerce again sent the Colonel a most argent invitation to visit our city. This time be came and siter a careful study of the situation decided that he would undertake the work, provided Knox-rille and Knox County would extend the assistance he desired. A call was issued, and an electron beld, and of Si voice out of nearly 8000 due only 18 voice out of nearly 8000 due only 480,000. Private subscriptions welled this amount to nearly $50,000, and with this fund Col. Boone made a survey and seemed a complete franshise oulrely across the state of Teasessee, from Jelliot to the North Car-nessee, from Jelliot to the North Carentirely across the state of Tenoilna line, and also a belt line around Knoxville, and besides this expended several thousand dollars in having an accurate map made of the whole accurate map made of the whole ronte, and contiguous territory, for use all along the proposed line. Our ronte, and contiguous territory, for mes all along the proposed line. Our people are virtually a unit for the road as was attested by the vote on the promoting fund, mentioned above. As to Knox Consty voting $1,009.00 to guarantee interest on the bonde I enclose resolutions that were passed without a dissenting vote by two of the largest and most representative mass meetings ever convened in Knox-ville. When the proper time arrives Knox County will vote any amount that may be necessary to guarantee that may be necessary to gnarantee could do this without incurring an risk whatever, as the road could easily the fixed charges from the ontec pay the fixed charges from the ontest, and the question of guaranteelug the interest on the bonds would be a merely nominal matter. The most able experts in this country and Ecrope have been all along the proposed ronte, again and again from one end of the line to the other, and their testimony is invariably the same. They all admit that the road could pay imimony is invariably the same. They all admit that the road confil pay immessely from the start, and that almost avery mile of the line would furnish its own (onnage. Here in East Tannessee we have congregated varied and enormous mineral wealth, coal, iron, marble, sine, siste, copper, kaolin, and varions other minerals in leachaustable qualities, and the construction of the south of mile sequally rich in mineral wealth; so that the road will pay handsomely from the beginning, and as sfore-said the question of Knorville's guaranteeing interest on the bonds is a merely nominal matter, and but the expression of the absolute confidence of our people in our boundless resources, and the belief that the road will pay handsomely from the ontest; but were this not the case Knorv County would be justifiable in voting $1,000,000 use present interest on the bonds. On coal slone we would save $84,000 over present rate of freights, and on the various other articles, and merchandles the amount taxed in reduction of freights would soon aggregate $1,000,000 annually. Futbermer this the various other articles, and mer-chandles the amount taxed in reduc-tion of freights would soon aggregate $1,000,000 annually. Futbermore this great Trunk Line would sobance the value of real esists and other property enormonely, and our increased tax duplicate, and taxes on the road itself would amply justify Knov County in voting the amount suggested, even though the road should not be able to pay the fixed charges for a few years, which contingency as showed above in very improbable. Col. Boone's plan of raising the pro-moting fund by placing stock at 85 per share, canses a large number of people to become interested in the en-terprise, and arouse a public senti-ment that is Treeslatship, and sweeps all before it, and this aroused public sentiment all along the line is a potent factor in pushing the great undertaksentmental anong the more a potent factor in pushing the great undertak-ing to success. This is why Col. Boone places the prometing stock in small blocks, and among a large num-ber of people, rather than in larger small olocas, and among a large nomber of people, rather than in larger amonats among a few. Dover, Ripley, West Union, Cynthians, Cheni, Reunion in Libby Prison.

For the last time in the grim walls of heroic old Libby prison, men who had endured imprisonment in that Confederate stronghold met in annual reunion on Wednesday in Chicago to celebrate a historic event. It was the night of February 9, 1864, that one hundred and nine officers of the Union Army tunneled their way out of the prison and back to liberty. This was the thirty-fifth anniversary of that in eldent.

We regree that so few of our citizens availed themselves of the opportunity to meet Mr. Kirkby and talk with him in regard to the con-struction of this road, and the building of it through our city. We know that many of our citizens have no interest in this matter, talk suspiciously about the project and say that the road will ot be built, and that they are unwilling to throw away their money by contributing to the promotion fund, which, we are assured, is to be used in perfecting the franchise. "And I heard a voice saying unto me, write blessed are the dead which die in the Sord from hencetorth; yes-sain the Spirit, that they may re-from their labors, and their works de follow them."—Hev. 14: 13.

Mrs. Sarsh A. Keese died is this city at the home of her son-in-is w, W. F. Hibler, on Thursday evening at 10:15 o'dook, February 10, 1898. Since the was the daughter of Joseph Peyton, of Virginia, and was born in Fayette country, Kry. Dec. 13, 1816. She was married to Jeremiah Keesee March 4, 1838. Soon after their marriage they removed to Bourbon county. To them were born five children, of whom C. F. Keesee and Mrs. W. F. Hibler, of this city, survive. Her husband died Dec. 11, 1854. When her daughter married the mother became one of the family and tor 15 years of that time they have lived in this city. She was then frail in health, but by close attention and loving watch-care through all those years, she has been spared to bless that home. Early in 16t she made a confession of her faith in Jesuu the Christ and united with the Christian Church.

The Lord deal gracionsly with her; with long life did he satisfy her, and showed her his salvation. She reading, even to the last few weeks, in a remarkable degree her mental powers. She had a command the cocur-

a remarkable degree her mental pow-ers. She had at command the occurrences alike of early life and old age, and took an interest in reading books and periodicals. For more than four score and one years she has received of His love, and during the many years of affliction she has drunk of the healing waters, and her soul has been erreshed.

By her life she has taught to others lessons of gentleness, kindness, sympathy, love, patience, faith and hope. Home has been blessed by her presence, and it will be blessed by her sence, for to that heavenly home alike of early life and old age

A Smart Actor.

A German dramatic author tells a good story of an improvised monologue to which he had to listen on the occasion of the first production of a new comedy. The hero had finished a tolerably long speech, and at that precise moment a medical man ought to have emerged from the wings, but he did not emerge.

"Ah, here comes the doctor!" began the hero afresh, in order to fill up the time, and he stared anxiously in the direction of the "prompt" side of the stage.

"But how slowly he walks! One would imagine that there was no need for hurry. Now he has positively stopped to talk to a lady! What can he have to say to her? At last he is once more on his way. No—now he has stopped to talk to a man. Why, the doctor knows way body! Here he comes again. That that moment the doctor entered, but from the opposite side.

For an instant the here was taken a little aback, but with admirable coolness he recovered himself, and as he greeted the visitor he exclaimed!

"How did you get round the coners oquickly, doctora!"—Nuggets.

MULBERRY STREET'S BANNOS.

The Carlous Banlag Ways of the Mailine Colony of New York.

If financial conters were judged by the number of banks, a man might be pardoned for supposing that Mülberry street was bigger than Wall street. In six blocks in Mulberry street there are 30 banks. That is an average of five banks to the block, and these six blocks are in the humblest part of the street too.

As Actor's Essues.

After his first great successes Mr.

W. S. Pealey had to act in many plays which somehow did not seem to please the public. Some for these he just kept alive by his brilliant "gagging." On one occasion, when a werethed play had been going for someweeks in this manner, the conceited young author came behind and saked Mr. Pealey why he "gagged!" so much.

"The play will be all right." he and asked Mr. Penley why ne "gag-ged" so much.

"The play will be all right," he said, "if you will only speak my lines quietly and wait for the laugh."

Typographical errors sometimes cause really serious trounovance and dissatisfaction to advertisers. Other occasions they are simply amusing; but when an advertiser places his business in a newspaper he does so that he may bring before its readers his real meaning and emphatically what he offers to the purchasing public. Sometime since we noticed an "ad" in a paper, unbalanced and poorly displayed, which conveyed the idea that "them asses are invited to inspect my stock," which should have read, "the masses are invited to inspect my stock." The MT. STERLING ADVOCATE will put your "ad" in an attractive form and make it read intelligently,

After Baron Martin, who possessed a great horror of sporting "prophes," had become partially deaf, he was on one occasion trying a racing.

One of the counsel engaged in it was named Stammers, a solemn, formal, sententious personage, who seldom made a speech without quoting passages from Scripture, In addressing the jury, he was about to pursue his jold habit, and got as far as "as the prophet says," when the judge interposed:

"Don't trouble the jury, Mr. Stammers, about the prophets. There is not one of them who would not sell his father sixpenny worth of halfpence."
